

QUILLING EXHIBITION

If you like art and paper and would like to see how a 75 year-old is into making these lovely art pieces, then this Quilling exhibition is just what you would love to attend!

Lalitha Ramanarasiah, a resident of Chennai took to quilling when she was fascinated by this art form on one of her visits to Australia. Pursuing it as a hobby, over the last three years, she has created colourful and eye-catching designs on greeting cards, thamboolam bags, gift boxes, money pouches, fridge magnets etc. Samples of her creation will be on display at an Exhibition on 6th November from 5 to 7pm at IIT Club, Chennai. You can check out her blog on 70andquilling.com

Though it is 500 years old, Quilling is not very common in India. The art requires creativity and a lot of meticulous work using nimble fingers. You can also register for a free workshop that Lalitha will conduct later in November. Check for details at the Exhibition.

Please do come! Look forward to meeting you at the Exhibition.
